Royal Trendsetters

Millions turned on the telly last April to watch the union of PRINCE WILLIAM AND KATE MIDDLETON – Britannia Mania ensued. As a result, Anglophile 'rents are raising pinkies with their kids at tea parties and decorating kid rooms with crown motifs. We have Will and Kate to thank; their happily-ever-after has the world falling in love.

British Invasion

Proper picks from across the pond for your royal fan.

BY SABRINA JAMES

1. Pass the hat Union Jack cap ($28; foreaxelandhudson.com) 2. Cool coach Cars 2 bus ($9; toysrus.com) 3. Bell me later London phone-booth tee ($38; thelittlekingboutique.com) 4. Posh pooch Webkinz sheepdog ($7; amazon.com) 5. His Royal Highness Alimrose prince ($45; motherslove.com.au) 6. Deal me in The Beatles Yellow Submarine playing cards ($7; amazon.com) 7. Jolly wellies Striped boots ($32; polarnopyretusa.com) 8. Just add crumpets Silver tea set ($49; potterybarnkids.com) 9. Almost like Bea's! Red and white fascinators ($30 and $35; madamemerrywidow.etsy.com) 10. Who are you? Vintage tee ($38; rowdysprout.com)

IMAGES HATS, T-SHIRTS, TEA SET, AND WELLIES: JON WHITTLE
TOP RIGHT: JAMES DEVANEY/FILM MAGIC-GETTY
DOG AND CARDS: COURTESY OF AMAZON.COM